

JOE TORRE

Safe At Home
FOUNDATION

YOUTH VOICE:

What youth want to know and want to hear from adults about relationships

I want to know what you're up to, even if it feels uncomfortable to talk about.

It is awkward, I don't want to feel unsafe. I need lots of patience and understanding.

I know I said you're too young, but I want you to be honest about dating.

I want to be able to tell you about my partners, but I need you to listen first. When I talk about my partners, give me room to express myself without limits.

JOE TORRE

Safe At Home
FOUNDATION

YOUTH VOICE:

What youth want to know and want to hear from adults about relationships

I want you to respect yourself. I'm here to help you, come to me with your concerns.

I have so many questions! Is it possible not to love someone anymore? How do I know if my partner really cares about me?

I want to get to know the people you're dating. I want to trust you and your partner.

I would like that. But first, I have questions! How do I know if I'm really in love with my partner? Should we be exclusive before you meet them?

For more information on talking to youth about relationships, visit joetorre.org/podcast and tune in to episode 1 of Safe Keeping (Talking to Children and Teens about Relationships).